ChatGPT Summarize & Rewrite Prompt(s):

Hello there! These prompts are setup to give you a summarization of whatever text you might want summarized, in whatever subject matter and/or format you want it in. The summarization will be captured and analyzed in the subject matter provided by you.

The response will be in the voice of the subject matter and vocabulary presented in the sample text you provide.

It's important enough to note that there might be certain limitations to ChatGPT's answers, like previous articles on the subject of using Master Prompting. In case you encounter any difficulties with ChatGPT, you can always give the Playground model a try at https://platform.openai.com/playground

These prompts were engineered by myself this go around. The prompts are formatted to summarize a small or semi-large body of text while analyzing the provided text and responding in a summarization using the provided subject matter as a starting point for the response. The response should be in the same tone, vocabulary and expertise of the subject matter provided. Copy/Paste this prompt into ChatGPT; you can modify this but do so at your own risk, it may have undesirable results:

Please summarize the [subject matter] in brackets; capturing and analyzing its subject matter; vocabulary for a [what type of reader the person is that will read the response] specific reader using the subject matter and vocabulary in the [subject matter] in brackets. Only focus on the main points of the text presented.
